- Hiking - from local parks, to national parks, to around the corner

Madeline Mercier

Medical School: Pacific Northwest University of Health Sciences
College of Osteopathic Medicine

College: University of Oregon

Degrees: B.S., Human Physiology

Interests: I love experiencing new places and cultures with my husband through local cuisine and trying to replicate these dishes back home for family and friends. Our favorite is tapas in San Sebastian, Spain. I feel fortunate to have grown up in and continue to enjoy the outdoors through sports, snow skiing, trail hiking, beach camping, and boating. For the past 4 years, my friends and I, along with our entourage of dogs and babies, have been a part of a summer kickball league. We remain undefeated this season.
